VISION

A photograph of a classroom during a presentation. A teacher in a blue saree stands at the front, addressing a group of students. A projector screen displays a slide with the text 'MITRAz FIRST STEPS Welcomes' and a pink ribbon icon. The students are seated at desks, and one student in the foreground is holding up a smartphone to take a picture. The room has large windows on the right and ceiling fans.

To bring about a sustainable change in the lives of the first generation learners through an innovative curriculum that helps develop careers.

THE PROGRAM

At MITRAz, we believe that (a) education should be accessible to all; and, (b) the pedagogy and curriculum at schools should be industry relevant (meet the needs of the industry) with an aim to developing competencies and life skills, sought by the employers.

The “Fund for Future” initiative aims to address this problem by providing life skills to school students. Our approach in designing the curriculum for secondary school students is to embrace a teaching method (known as project based learning) in which participants learn by actively engaging in real world and meaningful projects.
